
Dad!

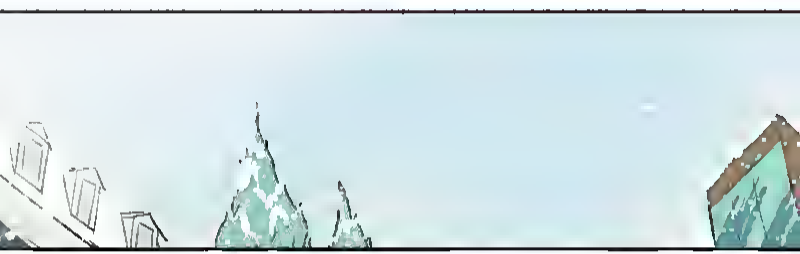
It snowed!
Yep.

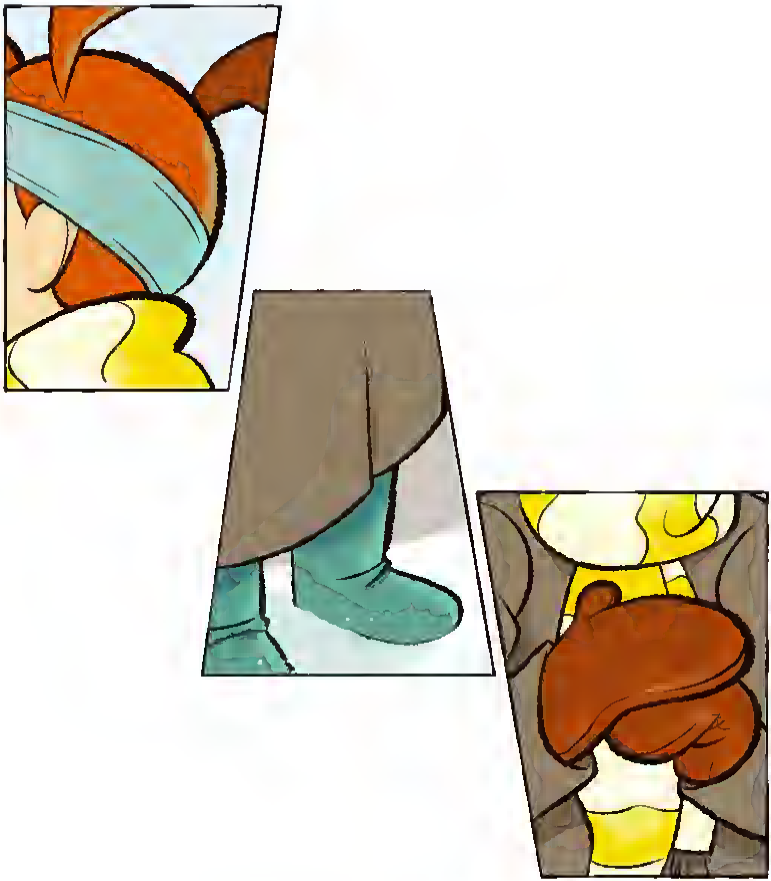
Pretty, isn't it?

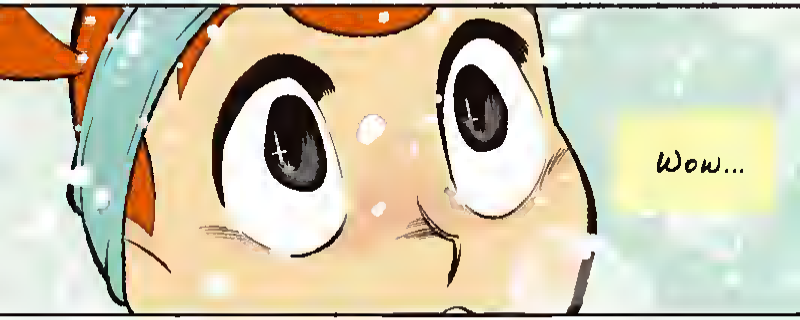
I'm going outside!

Uh...
Amy, wait!

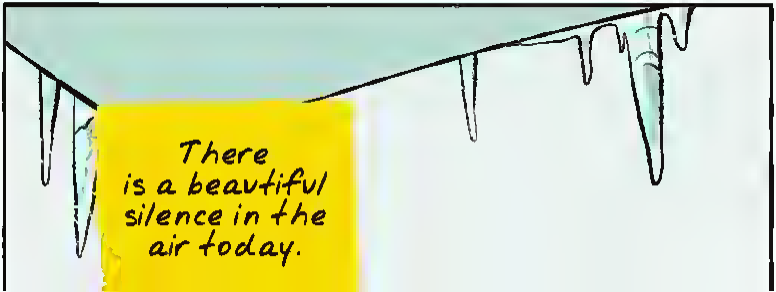
Brrr!
It's cold out there!







Wow...



There is a beautiful silence in the air today.

It's not the cold, empty silence of the Nothing...

This silence is full and deep and rich...

It is a silence of peace...

...a peace held together by snowflakes...

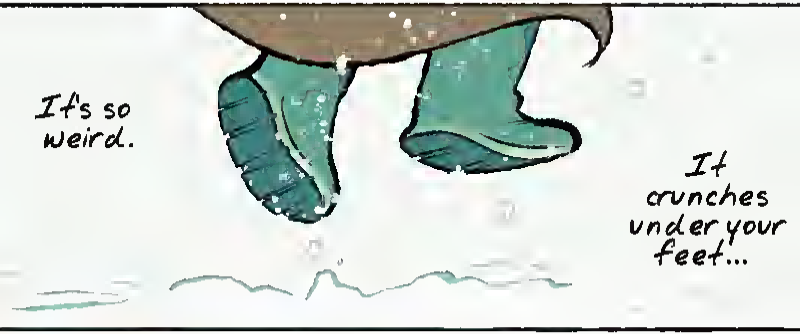
...snowflakes falling by the millions...
...mufflins the sounds of the city...
...muting the cries of birds...
...making the world new.

I like snow!



It's so weird.
It crunches under your feet...

...yet it's soft to the touch.

Brrr!

Amy!

Zeph!
What are you doing

here?
I tried calling but you weren't picking up.
I wanted to tell you--
Today's a snow day!
School's cancelled!
Really?

Mom!
Dad!
School's cancelled today!
Can I go sleddins with Zeph?
Sure
No.

Uh...
What your mother said.

Why not?
Because you're grounded, Amy.
I thought I made that clear.
Please, mom?
I've never been sledding!
I'll-- I'll do the laundry for a month!

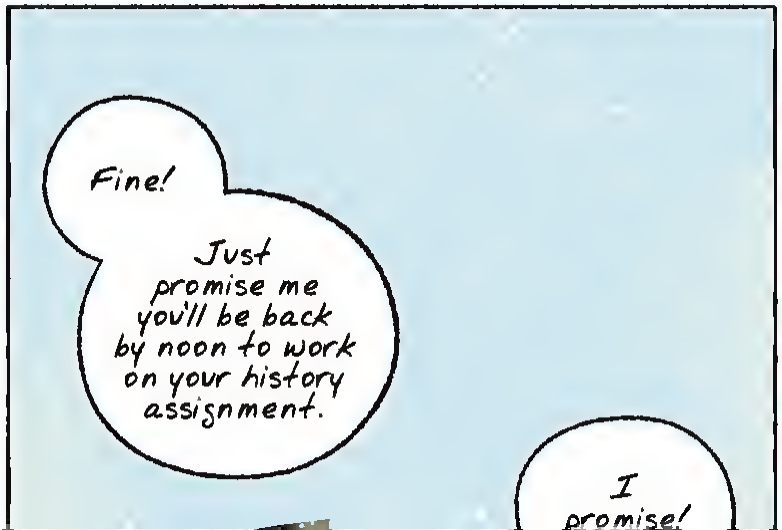
I'll give you a back massage!
I'll love you forever, mom!
AH!
Your face is cold!



Fine!
Just promise me you'll be back by noon to work on your history assignment.
I promise!

Thanks mom!

PRIZES!
THERE WILL BE PRIZES!

Your mission, should you choose to accept, is this:

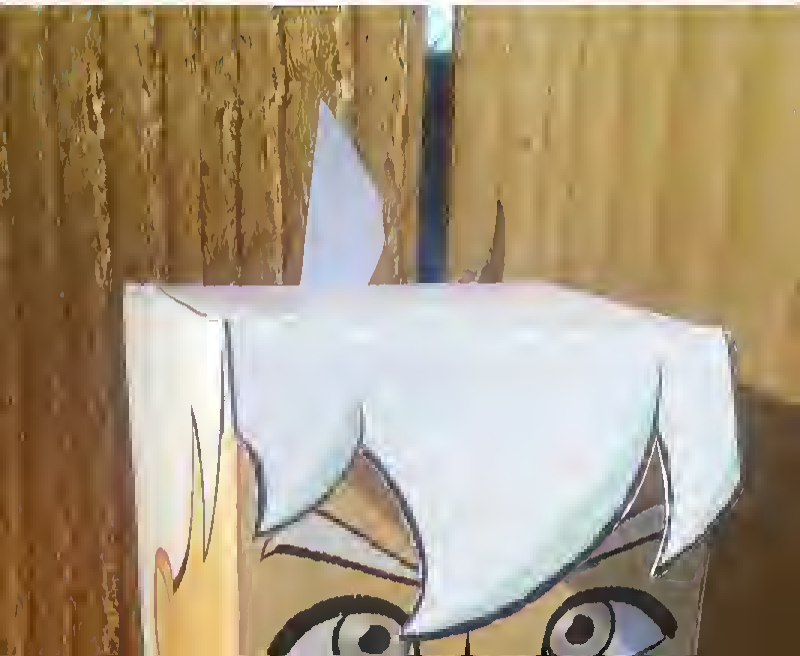
1. Post a link to Space Boy on your favorite social network. Tell your friends to read the comic!

2. Take a screenshot of the post, or a link to the post, and email that to spaceboymission@gmail.com.

3. I will then email you back your prizes.

What are the prizes you might ask?

Papercraft versions of Amy and Oliver!



If you complete this mission you will receive BOTH Amy and Oliver in a PDF.

Simply print it, cut it, fold it and glue it!

NOTES:

To receive prizes, you must send your email to spaceboymission@gmail.com. Please don't send it anywhere else, like my personal email.

There is no time limit to this mission! If you're reading this two years from now, and want an Amy and Oliver papercraft-- submit your email and I will send you back your prizes!

I really appreciate it.

Your constant support means a lot to me.

Happy Halloween!
